ROUND SQUARE

POSTCARD

We wish you will be here:

We invite global schools to join us in a meaningful conversation about the qualities of a good leader. Together, we'll explore what leadership looks like in our communities and around the world.

During this session, we'll discuss important questions such as

1. What is a leader?
2. What values and motivations guide good leaders?
3. How do leaders make a positive difference?

This will be a space to share your unique perspectives and ideas so that we can build a complete picture of what it means to be a good leader. Whether it's through small actions or big changes, your voice matters.
We encourage you to join us and share all your unique views so that we can build a complete picture of how we can be good leaders.
