YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW:

Choosing our future

POSTCARD

Humanity stands at a crossroads. Artificial intelligence, climate change, and new technologies promise dazzling possibilities - but also profound risks. In his latest book, The Challenge of the Future, philosopher A.C. Grayling asks: 'What should we keep from yesterday as we rush into tomorrow?'

In this Round Square Postcard, we'll explore that question together. You'll hear insights from Professor Grayling himself in an interview recorded by our senior students, and then join peers from across the Asia-Pacific region to discuss:

- What values should endure in a world transformed by technology?
- How can democracy survive in an age of surveillance and AI?
- What role should young people play in shaping a future that is fair, sustainable, and humane?

Bring your curiosity and your ideas - we're not just imagining the future, we're deciding what kind of future we want to create.
