THE GAP YEAR

A Right or a Privilege?

POSTCARD

The "gap year" is often framed as a universal rite of passage for self-discovery. However, this narrative frequently ignores the economic and geopolitical realities that make such opportunities inaccessible for many. This postcard brings this tension into the light, facilitating a raw and honest conversation between those for whom travel is a given and those for whom it is a distant dream due to financial constraints or visa restrictions. The objective is to deconstruct the socioeconomic barriers to international travel and volunteering to redefine "adventure" and "discovery" in ways that are equitable and accessible.

We look forward to seeing you soon!!
